CKAP Membership in Canada – United States – United Kingdom

Life Membership in the CKAP in Canada:

A one time payment of $30.00 payable to CKAP when joining;
Payment of badges and medals in the incentive part of CKAP cost, badges $8.00 medals $18.00 in the incentive program are paid for when earned and sent along with your yearly cycling log. All km are cumulative from year to year so these awards are only earned and paid for once. One certificate for the highest level reached each year is included in the cost of the badge or medal. Requests for extra certificates cost $2.00 ea. You must purchase the badge or medals earned to receive a certificate. Winners of the Olympic Goal, 100,000 Km Club or the Hewes Challenge Trophies will receive a keeper plaque and have their engraved shield placed on the trophy free.

Life Membership in the CKAP for United States of America members:

The very same applies as in Canada, but $35.00 in US funds to cover the extra postage charges.
Winners of the Olympic Gold Trophies, male and female will receive a keeper's plaque when a photo of the winning members is received by the CKAP Coordinator. When a country other than Canada wins the annual Olympic Gold Trophy for the highest annual km, they win the Woody Graham International Olympic Goal Trophy and the highest Canadian km wins the Les Humphreys male and Laurie Leslie female Canadian Olympic Goal Trophy, a Canadian could win both. The Bruce Timmermans 100,000 Km Club, Hewes Challenge winners receive a keeper plaque and their shield on the trophy.

Life Membership in the CKAP Programs for United Kingdom members:

The same as above information, with Life Membership in the CKAP Programs costing $40.00 US or equivalent to pay for the extra cost for postage charges.

All members receive an annual report and comments column "From the Peloton".

You must be a member of CKAP to participate in CKAP.
